QUEEN'S CANADIAN FUND NEWS

NEVER HAVE SO MANY NEEDED SO MUCH FROM YOU

A special dispatch for the Queen's Canadian Fund for Air Aids Victims has been written by Brian A. Tobin, British United Press Staff Correspondent, recently returned from London.

Mr. Tobin crossed the Atlantic in one of the former U. S. destroyers transferred to the Royal Navy, and he was in London through many of the worst raids, including the fire raid on the City. Here is his vivid review of the plight of the victims of Nazi barbarity.

"Suppose you came up out of a deep air raid shelter one morning and walked home to find you had no home? Instead you found that a bomb had hit your house—you found that your explosive and fire had utterly destroyed your dwelling, your furniture, your clothes and the last scrap of food in what used to be your pantry. You had no money, and no possessions beyond the clothes you were wearing.

You would then be in the position of the people of London and other British cities who will benefit from the Queen's Canadian Fund for Air Aids Victims.

Send your Queen's Canadian Fund subscription to the Royal Trust Company, 105 St. James Street, Montreal, which passes it to Queen's Canadian Fund.

Coast To Coast Highway May Be Completed This Year

For long years motorists have dreamed of travelling by an all Canadian highway from Canada's Atlantic shores to where the Pacific Ocean beats on its western coast. They realized that to complete the road would take time; that many engineering problems would have to be solved, and that a huge financial outlay would be required. Few thought that the trans-continental trip would be possible by aeroplane before the road was completed.

As a bridge is built across a wide river, extending from either shore to meet in the centre, so the Trans-Canada highway has developed. There now remains to be built either the 150-mile stretch between Hears and Geraldton in Northern Ontario, or the longer one along the north shore of Lake Superior between Saint. Marie and Schreiber. This northern spur will in all probability be completed during 1941. Breaking its wartime policy of making no capital expenditures for roads, the Ontario government is proposing to spend $4,000,000 on completing the highway. It is estimated that an expenditure of $27,000,000 will be required to complete the southern route.

Almost thirty years ago an author dreamed as he wrote of this highway and of Canada as a tourist country. "Where one automobile has travelled, a hundred will be ready to follow, and a thousand eager to travel a four thousand mile highway through a panorama, unique, varied, rugged and constantly sublime. The house beautiful will be set in order. There will be the perfect road running from sea to sea. There will be good hotels, a wholesome little way-side inn will be as plentiful as scenery. Invitations will go out to all the world to tour the Dominion." The waiting has been long but motorists will perhaps this fall, or next year, travel America's longest highway.

The C. P. R. irrigation canal will be revised cutting 20 miles at Johnson's and K. Rogers. The new ditch will be dug about 400 feet north.

From Bombed Chapel

The long tables with their streamers of red, white and blue, Spring Flowers and colorful salads presented a very attractive appearance.

A singing of O Canada was followed by Grace said by Rev. S. R. Hunt. Following a beautiful banquet, the guests prepared, Mr. S. H. Crowther, Chairman for the evening, welcomed the guests present on behalf of the Legion and 2nd Battery. Mr. Crowther's welcome was a masterpiece of today as deplorable. "Let us dedicate ourselves to the highest human values, to economic and social justice. Let us resolve that in addition to putting forth every ounce of effort to win the war, we here in Canada, will serve a social and economic order wherein there shall be equal opportunity for all—the end that peace, happiness and contentment may be the heritage of our children and those who come after them. Spiritual values must give place to material ones.

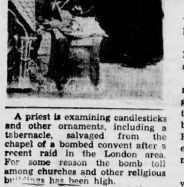

The silent toast was eloquently and very impressively given by Rev. Leslie Pearson.

A musical program, arranged by Mr. Gilbert Patrick was of very high, and varied calibre.

The Quick Rubber of Bridge, arranged by Mrs. Philip Boese of Calgary was a clever take off on the real thing. The ladies singing their parts being Mrs. Jeffrey Mrs. Callies, Mrs. Higginbotham and Miss Ballantine, each possessing voices of outstanding merit.

Captain and Mrs. S. H. Farquhar were exceptionally clever entertainers in varied roles. Mrs. Farquhar's representation of a soprano and baritone duet was a difficult and well executed selection, which met with a very hearty encore.

Shades of the Past! A fire started on stable got out of hand yesterday. It required no less than ten men, a tractor and a plough to get it under control. No serious damage was done, barring a few telephone wires which were burned down.

CHEADLE

Those home for the Easter holidays were Misses Lieta Barber, Hene and Jeanette Cramer from Calgary. Miss Verna Barber from her school neteller.

Miss Joyce Lane of Calgary spent the holidays visiting friends in Chedale.

Mr. and Mrs. Wm. Reid, former residents of Chedale were week end guests of Mrs. McLean.

Commemoration of Vimy Alex Walker, Dominion Legion Head, Speaker

The Social Evening arranged by the local branch of the Canadian Legion together with members of the 23rd Battery, and held in the Memorial Hall, Friday evening last was among the best of these events which have been held in commemoration of the Taking of Vimy.

Once again the Memorial Hall of which Strathmore citizens are so justly proud opened its hospitable doors to a gathering numbering about 200.

In opening his remarks he spoke of old associations with a number of the men of No. 10 Branch H. E. S. L. and of previous visits to Strathmore.

A President Walker stated that it was a confusion of emotions among many of those present.

Mr. Roy Mailing presided deftly. Toast to the Ladies was cleverly expressed by Lieut. Art Lambert, the response being given ably by Mrs. T. E. H. Patterson.

Two Piano solos by Miss Violet Hyde were exquisite numbers delightfully rendered by Mrs. Walter Mercer.

Songs by Mrs. Walter Mercer were sung in her accustomed sympathetic and appealing voice.

Mr. Gilbert Patrick brought down the house with his very amusing character songs.

He was accompanied on the piano by Mrs. Walter Mercer.

In a well expressed presentation spoke Lieut. W. L. MacKenzie be spoke the generous assistance the 2nd Battery had received from T. E. H. Patterson. Gunner in the war of 1914-18 and on behalf of the Battery presented Mr. Patterson with a handsome cigarette case.

Lt. MacKenzie then called on Mr. Art Hay to make presentations of very pretty medals to three of their numbers recently married. These were Lieut. Lambert, Mr. Wright and Mr. Cook.

Short addresses were pleasantly given by Comrade Geo. McLean, President of the Canadian Legion, and Capt. Henderson, O. C. 2nd Battery.

Secretary Patterson, an artistic hand, worked was in evidence in several places.

Members of the Legion and 2nd Battery in charge of arrangements were Lt. W. L. MacKenzie, Mr. Sam Slater, Mr. F. Spillman, Mr. Gaylon Robinson, Jas. Gunn, Jimmy Swanson, and R. E. Gray, as chief clerk.

A number of the town girls made very efficient servers.

The speaker dealt in comprehensive manner with the effort to benefit conditions for the men of this war. He spoke of various courses of study and classes which are meeting with very enthusiastic response from the men. There are at present some 30 courses arranged and these may be extended to 40. Credits made by these soldier students will be recognized by the universities. There are no teachers giving their services, gratis to carry on these classes.

There is also a marked advance in "civvy" civvies, where old drinks, chocolates, hot tea, supplies of writing paper, the radio, and more are provided and the men are in increasingly appreciative of this service.

The American Legion ties up with this Americans are busy breaking up German Bunkers, and are shipping "handies for Britain" in vast quantities.

The speaker said that if London is bombed, there is no reason why home should be spared, which statement received much applause.

Another point which the Canadian Legion has helped to bring to the attention of the public is the case of Soldier's Dependents Awaiting. There has been much to adjust and they are doing their utmost to realize and make fairer all-owances.

A very important point, and one which the speaker evidently felt very keenly, was the fact that the men and thinking people, is the supreme duty of the government, or the powers that be, to see that all returned men shall be found regular employment, before being discharged from the army. Then surely the unemphasized duty of any country or government which has called these men to serve and if need be to give their lives.

Mr. Walker also stated that the Legion was again applying for free hospitalization for 12 months after discharge.

Mr. Walker stated a truism when he said that the character of the country is reflected in the individual. This is a very significant statement. The speaker said the Legion as a whole felt that any legislation which helped the soldiers of the last war should be extended to the men of this war.

The speaker said that what the nation needs to put it over the top, is less selfishness, more friendliness and better family feeling.

THE WEEK IN EDMONTON

Edmonton—Continued calls for fighting men are being issued by the R. C. A. F. and the Canadian Army. The army needs more than 100 recruits immediately in a wide variety of trades classes. The R. C. A. F. needs switchboard operators, air crew members and radio technicians. A special call for 2,500 men with junior matriculation standing has been issued for recruiting students in a special radio course to be conducted in various universities. Graduates will go immediately to Britain to join de-molition forces against night bombers. They will be instructed in operation of a new device which is expected to nullify the night bombing attacks—Age limits, 18 to 46.

Deaths of Mr Fred Casselman, M. P. member for Edmonton East, has brought possibilities of a by election contested by New Democracy and Conservative groups, it is indicated in the city.

Northern Alberta logging industry has hung up an all time record and it is expected that at the end of the current season a cut of 125,000,000 board feet of native spruce will have been cut. A year ago the cut ran to 115,000,000. Mr. Birch, Jackpine and other timbers will add another million board feet to the aggregate. It will be recalled that H. H. MacMillan, federal timber controller, asked Alberta to speed up production last fall. The province thereupon voted income reductions to permit longer work hours. As result, 6,000 men have worked longer at higher wages. It is believed one-third of the cut will be exported to the United States, and due to the exchange situation, a premium of $5 a thousand feet will bring skilled income.

According to Hon. J. A. MacKinnon, federal minister of trade and commerce, the western farmer has before him the complete wheat plan of the federal government for the current year. Mr MacKinnon is in Edmonton for a short holiday. He said that any adjustments which may be made will be of a minor character. Speaking of the expansion of air training schools he said that Edmonton will probably benefit in the near future through this expansion. He was unable to go into details.

Edmonton welcomed delegates to the Alberta Teachers' Association convention Monday when they gathered in the Macdonald hotel for an intensive program. Premier Abernethy and Mayor J. W. Fry spoke at the formal opening. Principle guest speaker was Dr Harold Rugg of Teachers' college, Columbia University. He delivered a number of addresses during the convention, and gave one public address which was broadcast. While in session the teachers collected funds to transmit to the British National Union of Teachers for wartime use. It is expected that at the end of the drive 5,000 Alberta teachers will have contributed.

During the past three years more than 400 purebred bulls have been distributed to farmers of Alberta who never previously had kept purebred sires, it was stated by J. H. Sweney, deputy minister of agriculture, when he addressed the meeting of the Northern Alberta Shorthorn club in Edmonton recently. He said that bull distribution program would continue, possibly on a slightly smaller scale. He warned that cattlemen will have to look ahead and study the market situation as it will be in years to come, regarding the quality of cattle be enhanced.

The Battle of the Atlantic is making itself felt throughout Canada in delays and possible loss of mails. Notice has been issued by postal authorities that a steamer which left Britain in late March and was due in Canada early in April is overdue. The vessel carried 3,555 box of letters and 403 bags of parcels for Canada.

It was a little one horse hotel in a no-Ford town, but just at the moment it was filled to overflowing with newspapermen who had come down to get the details of a murder. Reporters slept in the halls on their overcoats and photographers on their precious precious cameras.

The men did not mind the over-crowding so much, but it was crowded discovered that the only bathtub had a "Fresh Paint" sign hanging on it. They gathered around the door in robes and carrying bath towels, cursing the luck that deprived them of their baths.

At last, Dagley, the oldest and most over-crowded reporter in the crowd, stroled up. Upon seeing him, some of the younger newsgatherers conceived a bright idea. They removed the "Fresh Paint" sign!

After a few minutes of splashing, and singing, Dagley stroled out of the bathroom, whistling.

"How was it?" asked one of the jokers.
"Great," was the reply.
"But there was a 'Fresh Paint' sign on the tub."
"Sure," said Dagley. "I put it there."

Transplanting Evergreens—Many people believe it is difficult to transplant evergreens, but such is not the case. They can be easily transplanted in the spring and with a little care will thrive in their new locations.

Hundreds of farms in Alberta could be made much more attractive and valuable by transplanting native spruce around the buildings. The white spruce is an excellent tree for this purpose and it is plentiful all over the central and northern part of the Province. A useful Bulletin on Planting Evergreens may be obtained from the Extension Branch, Department of Agriculture, Edmonton.

Rhubarb—Good varieties are the Macdonald variety. It is one of the best. It is of good size, juicy, fine grained and requires less sugar at cooking time. Ruby, Mammoth Red, Victoria, and Early Sunrise are other varieties. Strawberry Rhubarb is a more drought resistant variety.

THE YUGOSLAVS and THE GREEKS

TODAY (Monday) it would seem that only a miracle can save Greece from falling a prey to the crushing hordes of Nazi men, tanks and bombs. The struggle they have put forth, the courage displayed, and loyalty to their homeland has been enormously great. But Nazi control of these countries is, we believe, duty temporary, and the story is not ended with this cruel outcome.

Britain is mustering more tanks and guns, and the United States is speeding production and shipping, with amazing haste to go to the aid of these heroic people. The tide will turn, and the Nazis will be driven back out of these countries, now held by them.

"The mills of the gods grind slowly. But they grind exceedingly fine."

The pean of thanksgiving that these people will eventually sing, will be united with that of Britain whose people are carrying on such unflinching courage during these months of suffering, destruction and death.

THE HEALTH UNIT

The Standard has so repeatedly given in detail the benefits to be derived from establishing a Health Unit in every locality, that to repeat these reasons would seem quite superfluous. However, as people in general are becoming more alive to the benefit of social legislation for the good of the community in general we repeat, "that the health of a community is its greatest asset, and to ensure this prevention is better than cure."

To this end a number of people, interested in the Health of the Community and believing this can best be improved by the establishing of a Health Unit throughout the Province, are writing the Hon. Dr. Cross, Minister of Health in the Provincial Government to urge the establishment of a Health Unit for the district represented by the seven municipalities which meet in conference in Strathmore in August last. A movement on foot to urge every man and woman interested in the health of the growing generation — and who is not — to write personally to the Hon. Dr. Cross making this request.

The present Government has put through some progressive legislation in Health matters in taking over the cost of the Keith Sanatorium and adding $50,000 thereto this year, also in establishing the free Cancer Clinic in Calgary.

We freely acknowledge this though not being able to agree with their monetary policy.

Recognizing these progressive Health Measures we now appeal for a Health Unit for the district represented by the Municipalities of Bow Valley, Beldington, Sprague, Kew, Graveland, Blackfoot and Sheep, also the villages of Standard, Rockyford, Aldrie, and the towns of Gleichen and Strathmore.

RE-ESTABLISHING RETURNED SOLDIERS

ALEX Walker, Dominion President Canadian Legion struck a vital issue in his address last Friday evening when he discussed at some length the effort being made and which should continue to be made to place returned soldiers in satisfactory employment following the war.

Any action which fails to do this is not living up to the standard of the man who risks his life, when enlisting.

WEEKLIES PULL THEIR WEIGHT

After examination of the editorial support given all war efforts, news items assisting financial drives, and the publication of communications from the soldiers, sailors, and airmen, by the weekly press of a week, we have made a conservative estimate of the space given gratis, and it amounts to at least 1000 news columns each week. Taking the weekly press as a whole, this is the estimate.

"BONNET — 1806"

ANOTHER Year! — another deadly blow!
Another mighty Empire overturned!
And We are left, or shall be left alone;
The last that dare to struggle with the Hun;
'Tis well! from this day forward we shall know
That in ourselves our safety must be sought;
That by our own right hands it must be wrought;
That we must stand unopposed, or be laid low.

O dastard whom such forebode doth not cheer!
We shall exult, if they who rule the land
Be men who hold its many blessings dear,
Wise, upright, valiant; not a servile breed,
Who are to judge of danger which they fear,
And hound which they do not understand. — Wordsworth

When Wordsworth wrote these stirring lines at the close of 1805, Napoleon was master of a continent. The "third great coalition" had been shattered. Russia had sought respite behind her own borders. Austria had humbly sued for peace. Prussia, bewildered by her own sudden downfall had joined Napoleon and declared war against her former ally. England, Nations big and small fawned favour beneath a conqueror's heel — all but one, England — last bulwark against tyranny, last hope of freedom-loving men. Nine years later, he who had dominated Europe stood a gloomy figure on the wilderness cliffs of St. Helena. And England stood proudly

Rear Admiral Percy W. Nelles, RCN

Chief of the Naval Staff.

Young man in command of a Navy, Rear Admiral Percy Walker Nelles at 45 is Canada's Chief of Naval Staff and Chairman of the Chiefs of Staff Committee in the severest struggle of the Empire's long history. The man on the street is beginning to be aware of what this country and indeed the entire Commonwealth of Nations owe to the foresight and energy of this brilliant and modest officer during the peace-time years, and directly preceding this war. The foundation he laid made possible the amazing accomplishments that started with the drop of the hat when war was declared.

Looking back at Canada's pre-war Navy of fifteen vessels, and realizing as we now do that what U.S. neutrality regulations, every item of war supply and equipment from the U.S. as well as Canada must leave this country for the British Isles via some Canadian port, Canadian citizens today feel an extraordinary thrill over the first exchange of messages between Great Britain and Canada's Navy. How soon, the Admiralty wanted to know, did the two only children could the Canadian Navy be ready to organize a convoy to accompany merchant ships out into the Atlantic. Admiral Nelles replied, "Now" — the technical words to that effect.

Since his appointment in 1934 to succeed Commander Hogg as Chief of Naval Staff, Admiral Nelles had realized the role his little navy must play, that of a skeleton organization that must be able to expand as an instrument of expansion the moment the war clouds gathering on the horizon should break into the inevitable storm. He is said to have known personally by name every vessel afloat in Canada, private, merchant, pleasure craft, sailboat or launch, and what wartime role each could be made to play.

Born in Brantford, Ontario, Nelles is the son of Brigadier General Charles M. Nelles. His mother was one of those rare "grandes dames" of army circles, a woman whom the ranks revered. Of her two only children, the younger, Norman Cunningham Nelles, was killed in action at Ypres, in 1918.

When Admiral Kingmill came back to Canada from England to organize a Canadian Navy in 1908, second youth to sign up on the strength was Percy Nelles, age 15. He had come right through the entire life of the Navy, from the days when his preliminary training was done on a Fisher's Protection Service Vessel, to the acquisition of the "Nobe", and the gradual achievement of a small fleet of our own.

Nelles began the last war attached to Admiral Craddock's flagship in American West Indies waters. Later in H. M. S. "Antrim" he saw continental service conveying Canadian troops and war supplies from Halifax to the Clyde. After the war ended, his service sheet shows him continually returning to London for further study, staff work at the Admiralty, service with the Fleet, training step by step in the same pattern as officers of the Royal Navy. He had the remarkable experience in 1925 of being the first and only officer of the Canadian Navy ever to command a British Cruiser when he served as Acting Captain of the "Dragon." His promotion to Rear-Admiral came in 1928.

Canadian Red Cross Society ALBERTA DIVISION

Stunned victims of last night's worst air raid on London, recovered large quantities of food, clothing and blankets from the Canadian Red Cross immediately after the Nazi blitz. The Society's Officers — Commissioner, C. A. Scott, Capt. Head-quarters today, one thousand civilians made homeless in a single hour found Canadian supplies ready for them as they emerged shivering and terrified from shelters, and discovered the smoking ruins of their homes.

In the early hours of this morning officials called on the Canadian Red Cross for immediate assistance. Major Scott said in his cable, fifteen hundred blankets were loaded onto lorries and speeded into the disaster areas. The food included soups, stews, hash, cheese and jam. All other Red Cross supplies were sent to the disaster areas. Thousands of parcels of food and clothing had been previously packed in preparation of such a blitz," he cabled.

20 PER CENT PROCEEDS TO

Weeds and Flowers

Last year we announced a service which would assist farmers and young people in becoming familiar with the many kinds of weeds which infest farm lands and gardens.
Specimens may be handed to any grain buyer serving any one of the elevator companies associated with the work of the Agricultural Department. The grain buyer will be glad to send the plants on to be for identification.

It is very important to secure good specimens. The entire plant, including flowers and roots, should be sent.
Unless it happens to be so small or a weed!

Those people or others interested in botany are welcome to submit any plants they are so. We have built up a good collection of native plants, and expect to add many more this summer. There is no end of pleasure to be found in making and preserving plant collections, and young people living in the country should try it. We are preparing a circular dealing with collecting, pressing, mounting and labelling specimens, copies of which may be secured from The Agricultural Department, The North-West Line Extension Association, Winnipeg.

We are playing host to several dozens of perennial weeds which may be checked and readily identified if caught in time. Once they are well established it may be more than the land is worth to get rid of them. If every young man over twenty could examine every weed on the home farm, we would be well on the way to winning the weed war.
